

Calgary Collaborative Services Centre (CCSC)

Sheldon M. Chumir Health Centre / 1213 - 4 Street SW

The CCSC, centrally located within the Sheldon M. Chumir Health Centre in downtown Calgary, is a single access point for individuals and families affected by domestic violence and sexual assault. At CCSC individuals and families can access a wide range of services to meet their unique health, legal and social service needs.

Partners of the Calgary Collaborative Services Centre are committed to service excellence. We provide compassionate support, up-to-date information and personal and confidential access to legal, police, medical and counselling services, all through one central location. Currently services at CCSC are available by appointment only.

CCSC respects every individual's right to decide which services are best for them. Please call to book an appointment if you are:
